

Volunteers Needed! for the Augusta County Historical Society

The Augusta County Historical Society, which was founded in 1964, helps promote interest in the history of the Augusta County area; supports the discovery and preservation of papers, documents, books, objects, sites, places, and buildings of historic interest; and encourages the study of and research into the archaeology and history of the Augusta County, Staunton, and Waynesboro area and the genealogy and sociology of its inhabitants.

If you find you have time for community involvement or just want to learn more about the history of Augusta County, perhaps working as a volunteer with the Augusta County Historical Society would serve this purpose.

Preparations have begun to restore the old Eakleton Hotel and turn it into the R.R. Smith History and Art Center in downtown Staunton. The Society will have new offices, a library, and exhibit space in that restored building. Volunteers are needed now at our current office in the Augusta County government center in Verona and even more help will be needed as we move into our new quarters.

If you are interested in volunteering for the Society, either on a regular basis or for special events and jobs, please complete the survey below, fold this paper, secure it, place a stamp on it and mail it back to the Society.
